

DANCES, DINNERS AND PARTIES ARE ARRANGED FOR COMING WEEK; NO SLACKENING IN GAYETY OF SEASON IS YET TO BE OBSERVED IN EL PASO

By OLLIE P. LANSDEX.

COMES the middle of June and yet no abatement of the social activities which usually mark this month. The club activities have almost ceased until the crisp autumn days return, but numerous dinners, dances, teas, receptions and card parties have been given during the past week and many more are planned for the coming week. While many El Pasoans have departed for summer resorts, sea coast and mountain, there are many who have not yet closed their homes and will not do so until later. Many of the young school folk are coming home for their vacations and prefer to remain at home throughout the season after being away most of the year. And thus with the homecoming girls and boys there are many pleasant affairs for the younger set, marking the season when the world is "knee deep" in June.

The most brilliant social affair of the past week was the garden party at the J. P. Williams home during the past week when a coterie of girls made their debut into society. Incident to this debut, many affairs are being given in compliment to the debutantes who are Miss Nancy Williams, Miss Helen Dunn, Miss Lydia Happer and Miss Margaret Neff.

Miss Margaret Lewis, Miss Kathleen Simms, of San Antonio, and Miss Vere Adams, of San Francisco, are here for the Williams party and are additions to the younger society set. Another charming visitor who comes during the week-end is Miss Elizabeth Johnston, of Chicago, who arrives on Sunday, to be the guest of Miss Sadie Ruth Aldridge, who recently came home for vacation days from National Park seminary in Washington, D. C.

Miss Helen Lewis is being escorted on social courtesies during the season with the four debutantes and she with Miss Williams, Miss Neff, Miss Dunn and Miss Happer will be honor guests at this evening at a dinner given by Mrs. W. B. Latta. The dinner is to be given at the club house gallery. Another of the series of social affairs honoring this coterie will be the luncheon at noon Saturday given by Mrs. E. E. Neff.

Prominent social affairs of the incoming week are the courtesies honoring the four debutantes of the season, Miss Nancy Beall Williams, Miss Margaret Beall Neff, Miss Lydia Happer and Miss Helen Dunn. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Josephine Forbes gave a miscellaneous shower for her at the Forbes home on Savannah street, attractively decorated with sweet peas and ferns. Many gifts were presented to Miss Burke. A two-course supper was served after the gifts were opened. Those present were: Miss Burke, Mrs. J. R. Campbell, Mrs. J. V. Perry, Mrs. S. W. Burke, Mrs. L. Lewis, Mrs. H. R. Swift, Mrs. J. L. Smith, at Fort Worth, Mrs. W. C. Drew, Miss Edith Beach, Miss Maud Coe, Miss Willie.

You and Other Discriminating Folks

should not send your work merely to "the laundry." There are some really first class ones in every city and you can afford to be careful. The choice of a laundry should be carefully made and should be based on reasons. The best way is to go yourself and look into sanitary and working conditions. The Acme Laundry Man will heartily welcome you and take you through his Big Sunshine plant. You may then see just how your Family Washing is done. You will then agree that the Finished Family Wash Service is safe, sanitary, and the price consistent with the service rendered.

Charmingly Appointed Tea Is Given By Miss Redmond for Five Friends

Miss Margaret Lewis and Miss Kathleen Simms of San Antonio and Miss Vere Adams of San Francisco. The morehead home on Myrtle avenue was the scene of the pretty affair and drawing room and reception rooms were decorated with pink and lavender sweet peas and snapdragons. The decorations for the dining room were chaste daisies and sweet peas, and they were employed in the table decorations. The table was laid with a white cloth and a silver bowl in the center held the flowers. Enriching the central ornament were silver vases of the blossoms and the light shone over the tea service from pink wax candles burning in silver candlesticks. The confections were in pink. Iced tea, sandwiches and cake were served. Mrs. Dexter Mapel and Mrs. Walter Skinner poured and assisted Miss Redmond in receiving both indoor and outdoor guests. Her aunt Mrs. C. R. Morehead, Mrs. A. B. Comfort, of Douglas, Arizona, Anne Magoffin, Miss Emily Kemp, Miss Margaret Gehring, and Miss Fannie Mapel, fifty guests called during the receiving hour.

A very charming courtesy was given Saturday at 1 o'clock by Miss Margaret Beall Neff, a buffet luncheon complimenting the house guests of her cousin, Miss Nancy Beall Williams, who are Miss Vere Adams, Miss Kathleen Simms and Miss Margaret Lewis. The Neff home was fragrant with all the blossoms of the June season and daisies and sweet peas were used in decoration for the luncheon service. The table was spread with lace and centered with a silver basket of blossoms. Surrounding the central basket were silver vases filled with the sweet peas and daisies. The confections and other appointments for the table were also pink and white. Assisting Miss Neff were her mother, Mrs. E. B. Neff, and her aunt, Mrs. Joseph P. Williams.

Miss Sarah Rodgers, who recently returned from the east, gave a luncheon on Friday to the members of the Nine Nifty Sisters, who are still in town. A number of the club members have left for the seashore and summer resorts for the season. The luncheon was given at the Paso del Norte and the table for the service was daintily appointed.
